

HOW TO GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-lives" Point the Way to Quick Relief

VERONA.
"I suffered for a number of years with Rheumatism and severe Pains in my Side and Back, caused by strains and heavy lifting."

When I had given up hope of ever being well again, a friend recommended "Fruit-a-lives" (or Fruit Lifter Tablets) to me and after using the first box I felt so much better that I continued to take them; and now I am enjoying the best of health."

SOUTH WILLINGTON

Miss Clara Hall, of Dana Hall school, was home for a few days the past week. She was accompanied by Miss Louise Landon, of Bordentown, N. J. The Junior Christian Endeavor gave an entertainment Friday evening at Social hall that was greatly enjoyed by all present. It was one of the best held for some time and won praise for who took part.

Miss Abbie Storr of Mansfield spent a few days this past week at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. Birdall.

W. H. Hall received word Friday, February 7, from the Welfare association of Hartford, which is composed of parents and friends of the boys who are in Companies B and C of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, that the boys are now coming back after the first step in the long journey had been taken when they proceeded from Chaumont, a concentration camp, to Le Mans, a town of about 500,000 people. The latter is a distribution point at which the troops are sent to points of embarkation. This would seem to indicate that during the next few weeks ought to bring his son, Gardner H. Hall back to America. Private Hall is with Company B.

Hallman Hall of Chateau school, Wallingford, was home over Sunday accompanied by Gerald Holbrook, of Red Bank, N. J., and Thomas Hubbard of Jacksonville, Florida.

WESTERLY

Lieut. Charles Raymond Blake, grandson of Mrs. Ellen W. Blake of 17 Tower street, who joined the Lafayette cadet corps in January, 1917, and was later transferred to the American flying forces, was aboard the Italian steamer Duca D'Abruzzi which docked in New York harbor Tuesday. Lieutenant Blake was decorated with the distinguished service cross near Lae, France, when he and a companion shot down one German and dispersed four others during an attack by a squadron from the famous Capt. Richtofen command. Lieutenant Blake was 18 years old when he enlisted in the American ambulance corps in Boston. He was later transferred to the aviation branch of the service.

Seventy-five of the soldiers and sailors of Westerly and Pawcatuck left town Wednesday morning on the 7:28 train for Providence to participate in the big parade at 1:30 o'clock. Several of the restaurants in the city threw open their doors to the Rhode Island heroes and free entertainment was provided by the theatres in the afternoon. Supper was served in the state armory and was followed by dancing. Each soldier and sailor was permitted to take along his sweetheart to enjoy the supper and dance. The town of Westerly will bear the expense of sending the Westerly and Pawcatuck boys to Providence.

A miscellaneous shower was given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Robinson on Main street for Miss Ida Sutcliffe, whose engagement to George Robinson, of Westerly, has been announced. Mr. Robinson is a draughtsman at the Groton shipyard and was formerly employed as draughtsman by Herman Dock of this town. Thirty-five friends of the young lady attended the shower and she received many handsome gifts. The party was arranged by Mrs. Robinson and Miss Abbie Denison of George street.

The February meeting of the South County Poultry and Pet Stock association was held Wednesday at the parish house in Ashaway. This is the first time the association has met since the organization started, seven years ago. In the afternoon Judge Daniel Stoddard, of Fall River, Mass., gave an exhibition of how to select layers and scored a number of birds. Following the business meeting in the evening, Prof. Daniel J. Lambert of the R. I. State college delivered a lecture on Poultry Raising and a musical entertainment was enjoyed.

At the meeting of the South County Rod and Gun club to be held Friday evening in Caledonian hall the members will discuss the advisability of a closed season on partridges until 1920 and only one month open season on quail, woodcock and pheasants instead of two. The Rhode Island Protective Game association at a meeting last week voted to present an act to the legislature making the season of 1919 closed on partridges and the members of the local gun club will doubtless make such a recommendation at the meeting Friday evening.

Samuel Critcherson of New York, who is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. William D. Critcherson, of High street, has been engaged by the American Over Theatre league to sing for the soldiers in France, Italy and England. He will be accompanied by Lester Seward of New York, a talented pianist.

Word has been received from First Sergeant Harold Dean of Providence, formerly of Westerly, that he is now at Coblenz with the army of occupation. Sergeant Dean has been overseas since Jan. 23, 1918, and has been with the troops known as the "pigeons," the front line men. He came through without a scratch.

The members of the local W. C. T. U. are making plans to celebrate Frances Willard's birthday Feb. 17 with an entertainment and exercises in the Sixth day Baptist church.

Ice on several of the local ponds was reported.

The cold snap continues. The Westerly and Pawcatuck ice company is talking of opening the artificial plant at Avondale this spring.

Fox hunters will have to be satisfied this year with the state bounty of $2, as the taxpayers of the town of Westerly failed to make a bounty this year on foxes and woodchucks. The bounty last year was $3 for each fox and $2 for each woodchuck. Bounties were paid on 35 foxes and 574 woodchucks, as compared with 47 foxes and 514 woodchucks in 1917.

The funeral of Michael J. Deady, attended by a great many friends and relatives, was held Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Mary Durfee, with a mass of requiem in the church of the Immaculate Conception. The mass was sung by Mr. Deady's cousin, Rev. Francis Higgins, assistant pastor at St. Patrick's church, Waterbury. Mr. Deady was a past exalted ruler of Westerly lodge of Elks, and the lodge was represented at the funeral by its exalted ruler, Joseph L. T. Ryan, William Beardon, Edward Murphy, Frank Vennett, of Westerly, and Dr. William Burke, of Providence. There was a beautiful floral service, including a set piece from the Elks.

Samuel G. Cottrell, chief engineer of the Westerly Fire department, who has been seriously ill at his home in Granite street for several months, has been taken to Lawrence hospital, New London. Assistant Harry Cole is acting as chief engineer.

The village of Bradford is soon to have an honor roll, with more than twenty-five names independent of the town honor roll in Westerly. The board will be six by nine feet in size, and will be ornamented with allied flags and American shield.

Local Laocenes.

The tax rate of Westerly has been increased from 18 to 20 mills, a like increase was made a year ago, and therefore the present rate at $1.90 on each $100 of taxable property.

Appropriations for the police and fire departments are the same in Westerly as in Pawcatuck, but the lights make lighted the police light.

Westerly has voted $2900 to be expended in a welcome-home to the soldiers and sailors, and $1000 for a history of the town in connection with the observance of the 250th anniversary and contracted for by the Westerly Board of Trade and Westerly Historical society.

The salary of Westerly town officers amounts to $5500 a year. About one seventh goes to the treasury department and tax collection.

Major William P. Arnold, representing the I. O. O. F. company, was here from Providence to attend the funeral of Michael J. Deady.

Dwight Stillman who was operated upon in New York city hospital, a week ago, is making gradual progress toward complete recovery.

Storks College takes over Junior Food Army work.

Any boy or girl in Connecticut who wants to grow a garden, a plot of corn or potatoes, or to raise a pig, a sheep, a calf, a flock of chickens or a pen of rabbits can have at his or her command all of the information on these subjects scientific or otherwise that the United States Department of Agriculture and the Connecticut Agricultural college can command.

While it is true that the war is over the State Council of Defense has not forgotten the excellent work done by the 45,000 youngsters entered in the Junior Food Army.

In taking over the Junior Food Army, the Extension Service of the State college finds it advisable to merge the organization with its Boys and Girls clubs in agriculture and home economics.

Briefly the plan is that where five or more boys or girls form an organization to promote any of the eleven club projects they will receive a club charter from the United States Department of Agriculture and will be provided with leaflets showing it possible to grow corn, raise a pig, raise a sheep, etc., etc. Any boy or girl can join any one of these clubs if he or she desires. The clubs will be organized by the Extension Service of the Agricultural college working through the Country Farm Bureaus.

In announcing the Agricultural college to take over the Junior Food Army work, J. W. Allen makes the following explanation on behalf of the State Council of Defense:

"In taking this action the Council desires to express its belief that the value of this work has been so far proven that it should not only be continued but it should be organized so that it would contribute toward production."
